Consideration further states.

Consideration jumped away in front and was at once joined by Tommy Waddell. These two raced head and head into the stretch where Monte Carlo began to close. Consideration was the first to quit and then Tommy Waddell stopped. Monte Carlo then went to the front end, stalling off a rush by Cascine, won by two and a helf lengths from Casoins, who beat Tommy Waddell five lengths for the place. Consideration quit to a walk and was twenty lengths back of his field.

POURTH RACE. The Rose Stakes for fil-ies: two-year-okis; $1,000 added; haif mile.

15 to 1 Shot an Upest. Legend, a 15 to 1 shot, upset two goothings in Lady Valentine and Pythin this race. Legend went to the from at the start and was joined by Pythis They ram together for a quarter, where Pythia dropped back. Lady Valentin then closed on Legend, but O'Nell kept to the going and Legend won be a head from Lady Valentina, who bea Society Bud two lengths for the place

Tol San Never Headed.

Tol San Never Headed.

Tol San went away in front and made all the running. One tas trailed to the stretch, where he moved up on Tol San, Baird on the latter kept moving out in front of Onatas all through the stretch, and at the sixteenth pole Onatas was forced to slow up. Tol San, under these tacties won by a length from Onatas, who beat Wyefield five lengths for the place. Burns claimed foul, but it was not allowed.

National League like she used to in days gone by.

The man scheduled for chief actor in this strenuous contest was Pittinger, a lad who nearly always conquered New York when he worked for Boston. The Giants have an old grudge against Pittinger, whom on account of his strange countenance they dubbed "Horseface," Naturally Mr. Pittinger does not feel like a father toward them.

On McGraw's part there was to be no let-up in the fast playing and hard hitting, but it was safe to predict that whether Pittinger, Duggleby or Sparks wast in the Gignia would have no cinch.

Hyde's Lawyer Declares Him Victim of Vast Conspiracy of Which Alexander's Return of Recent "Syndicate Profit" Checks Was a Part-Agents in Wrangle.

"I consider the action of the agents impertinent, extraordinary, is five hours of wrangling the general agents of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, who have been in session at the Hotel Savoy for two days, adopted a resolution to-day denouncing James H. Hyde's administration of the affairs of the Society and demanding his immediate resignation.

That such a resolution was to go through was known early in the day, when there was a conference at the residence of James W. Alexander, at which its text was practically decided upon. Unexpected opposition to such drastic treatment of Mr. Hyde developed, however, and it took five hours to beat it down. When the matter finally came up for a vote it was passed by 198 to 17.

AGENTS FAIL TO SEE HYDE.

A committee of five was immediately appointed to call on Mr. Hyde notify him of the action of the general agents. Armed with a copy of the resolution the five went to the Equitable building and straight to the office of Mr. Hyde. There they were met by Mr. Hyde's secretary, who told them he knew their business and that they might as well go away again as Mr. Hyde would not see them.

The agents begged for an audience but were told Mr. Hyde would not

RAIDS NEAR WALDORF-ASTORIA.

Eggers and his men raided two alleged pool-rooms late to-day. One was on the top floor of the five-story building No. 326 'Fifth avenue, close neighbor to the Waldorf-Astoria.

They had to use axes to get in and captured two switch-boards and sixteen telephones. Five persons were taken who described themselves as Bob Nelson, Weehawken; William Coins, No. 38 Catherine street; Edward Gilligan, Bay Ridge; John Howard, No. 48 Madison street, and John Luiks, No. 414 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn.

The second raid was easier. The raiders were freely admitted to the room back of Frank's salcon, No. 545 Third avenue, where John Thomas and Frank Arnold and a single tele-
